Craig-Walsh wedding held in St. Paul's, Ormstown

St. Paul's United Church in Ormstown was the setting for the four o'clock marriage ceremony on September 14, 1985, of Karen May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Craig of Ormstown, and Daniel Gilles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walsh of Huntingdon.

When the bride's mother had taken her place, Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin filled the air and the bridal procession began its way to the front of the church. There the groom awaited the bride's arrival, attended by the best man, Guy Bellefleur and the ushers, and in the company of the officiating the Reverend Oliver Carmichael, Minister of St. Paul's, and the Reverend Father Hubert Hamelin of the Parish of St. Joseph in Huntingdon, who would take part in the bilingual, double-ring ceremony that was about to begin.
