

Roberts - Johnstone wedding held in Russeltown's "Little White Church"

On Saturday, July 25, 1987, Russeltown Flatts United Church, the "Little White Church" was the site of the marriage of Mary Lorraine Roberts to Dr. John A. Johnstone. The bride is the daughter of Lyman A. and the Late Joyce Andrews Roberts of St. Lambert, Quebec. The groom is the son of Edward and Jo-Allen Johnstone of Houston, Texas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length, white Victorian wedding gown. The bodice, collar, sleeves and train were accented with delicate broderie anglaise and beading. The former Miss Roberts was attended by her sister, Libbie, who was dressed in a T-length peach lace dress. Darcy and Janna Hutchins nieces of the bride, were the flower girls and wore matching lavender dresses that were adorned with lace inset bodices and bustles.

The groom's brother, Clifford, served as best man. Dr. Johnstone's nephew, Jeffrey Smith, was the ring-bearer and Alan Johnstone and Robert Gilmartin were the ushers.

The historic building was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Lorraine's sister, Roberta, with summer flower arrangements that highlighted the wedding colors of peach, lavender and white.

Lorraine and John exchanged their vows in a double-ring ceremony with Rev. M.T. Skippon officiating. Dr. Gordon Roberts, cousin of the bride, read the scripture lesson. The wedding music was performed by Marcus and Andrea Hutchins. A selection of pieces were presented on flute and the 100 year old Church pump organ.

Many friends and relatives of the newlyweds travelled from all over the United States and Eastern Canada to attend the happy event.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the Church grounds. After honeymooning in the Southwestern United States, Dr. and Mrs. Johnstone will take up residence in Houston.
