Murder charges laid in Ste-Barbe slaying

A 24 year-old Valleyfield man accused in the July 15 slaying of Chantal Tremblay, 22, of Ormstown, will appear in Valleyfield Court on August 27 for a preliminary hearing.

Jean-Luc Brassard will face murder charges in connection with the stabbing death of Tremblay, a former girlfriend, at the Ste-Barbe cottage where she had been living.

Brassard himself called an ambulance to the Ch. Bord-du-Lac cottage, and medics called police. The accused had tried to stab himself and was taken to the Suroit Regional Hospital in Valleyfield with serious injuries. Once his condition stabilized, he was charged with the crime.

Police said it appears the young couple had broken up recently and Tremblay was living alone in Ste-Barbe.
