Man dies following hunting accident

A St-Antoine-Abbé man died in hospital November 11 from injuries sustained in a hunting accident at St-Bernard-de-Lacolle.

Daniel Laberge, 53, was shot in the abdomen by a .308 calibre bullet when he emerged unexpectedly from the bush at the moment a companion was aiming at a deer, late in the afternoon of Monday Nov. 9.

The victim was taken to the Haut-Richelieu Hospital where he died two days later, a Sûreté du Québec spokesman said.

The case has been turned over to the Prosecutor's office for a decision on whether charges will be laid against the 41 year-old Ormstown man involved in the shooting.
