Valleyfield

Sympathy

The Valleyfield community was greatly saddened to learn of the sudden and unexpected death of one of our most well-known and respected senior citizens.

Jim MacFarlane, long-time resident of Valleyfield, died on April 4, 2000, at the age of 88, after just a few days in the Valleyfield Regional Hospital. Complications set in following an emergency operation.

The touching funeral service was held at St. Mark's Anglican Church in Valleyfield on April 8, with Rev. Odette Perron officiating.

Many old friends and neighbors attended the service to say farewell to a respected and loved friend, and to offer condolences to his remaining family members.

Following the service, his remains were transported to the Huntingdon cemetery, where he was laid to rest beside his beloved wife, Ethel, who predeceased him five years ago, and his parents, in the family plot.

Jim was born in Huntingdon on December 10, 1911, the son of the late Margaret Evans Merson and David William

Elsie Melanson - 373-7207

Archibald MacFarlane.

After finishing school in Huntingdon, he moved to Valleyfield, where he became a trusted employee of Dominion Textiles, eventually becoming supervisor of the Shipping and Receiving Department until his retirement.

On September 16, 1939, he married Ethel Haworth, daughter of the late Thomas Henry Haworth and Mary Jane Rostron Doughty, of Valleyfield.

Jim had a quiet, unassuming personality, always happy and ready to help a friend or anyone else in need.

He was a faithful member of St. Mark's Anglican Church, where he held the position of sidesman.

He also enjoyed a game of cards, and was a member of the Valleyfield Friendship Club until its closing about three years ago.

He will be sadly missed in this community. Deepest sympathy goes out to his two remaining siblings, Agnes, of Waterloo, Ont.; and brother, Arthur, of Bellevue, Ont.; also to his many nieces and nephews in Valleyfield, Montreal, and Ontario.
