*The summer blooms are changing,
Another years has gone,
We struggle with the tears again,
To prove that we are strong,
But when we think of yesterday,
It's hard to fight the pain,
Because every time we think of you,
We lose you once again,
No longer can we see your smile,
We miss you more each day,
But the love for you inside our hearts,
Will never go away.*

Always remembered, sadly missed,
Dad & Mom

Whole community supports family

August 18 is a day that will be etched in my memory for the rest of my life. It's the day my son was killed in a tragic accident.

Liam was six-and-a-half years old and full of energy, like any boy his age. He could ride his bicycle as well as anyone almost twice his age, but that didn't help with the error in judgment he made that day.

Everyone makes mistakes, some large, some small, but unfortunately this one cost him his life.

The help from the community began almost immediately after the crash, with people coaching me in CPR, making emergency phone calls, and just lending their help in any way they could until the ambulance crew arrived. The ride to Ormstown never seemed so long. The emergency department at the hospital made a heroic effort, but tragically, Liam's injuries were too severe.

Our friends and family have been so

SHEARER - In loving memory of Bruce Ian Shearer who died September 5, 1996, husband, father and grandfather.

*May the winds of love blow softly
And whisper so you'll hear
How much we love and miss you
And wish that you were here.*

Remembered with love always wife Pat, sons & families

TAILLEFER, Shirley (née McGowan) - In loving memory of Shirley Taillefer who passed away September 9, 2001.

*To some you may be forgotten
To others you're part of the past
But to us who loved and lost you
Our memories of love will last.
So always stay beside us
It helps to know you're there
Thank-you for the memories
And the times we loved and shared.*

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughters and son Diane, Carole and Marc sons-in-law John and Tony and grandchildren Catherine, Sara and Trevor

Franklin couple killed in crash

An elderly Franklin couple were killed in a Friday morning collision at the intersection of the Montée Guérin and the Dumas range near the border of Ormstown and Franklin.

Kenneth Sutton, 87, and his wife Thelma Viola, 82, residents of Route 209 in Franklin, were driving south on the Montée Guérin shortly after 10 a.m. After making what police described as an incomplete stop at the intersection, their car was struck on the driver's side by another vehicle, travelling west on the Dumas Range. The driver, a man in his 60s, was unable to avoid the crash, police said. There is no stop sign on the Dumas Range at that intersection.

The Suttons were taken by ambulance to the Barrie Memorial Hospital in Ormstown, where the deaths were confirmed.

A memorial service is planned for Friday Sept. 6 at 2 p.m. at Franklin United Church.

solid, giving from their hearts, their kitchens and their pockets to help us through these troubled times. I can't imagine going through this alone. This experience has been so hard on us, but I'm so thankful for such great families to be there to take care of us.

I have lived here all my life, and have never seen such an incredible outpouring of love and compassion from a community. I used to think that values had changed and that the world had become a much colder and more selfish place. The care given us from the community proves there is still great goodness to be found, and I am proud to be a part of this wonderful community.

Faith, Lauren and I sincerely thank each and every one involved in helping us through our tragedy.
