LINDSAY
Robert John (Bob)
1924 - 2005

with his students. He began teaching at Loyola College and McGill University and moved west to Saskatchewan as an Instructor in Moose Jaw's Saskatchewan Technical Institute in 1979. He enjoyed many years there as a Survey Instructor, Program Head, Chairman of Technologies and ultimately Vice-Principal before he retired in 1989. Bob worked tirelessly for his students, and over his years in Saskatchewan he won the love and respect of his many friends and neighbours. While the prairies became a true home, he never replaced Innisfree, though designs and ideas for the Western version of it graced the backs of countless coffee shop napkins.

Throughout his life, Bob was many things to many people; athlete, artist, soldier, horseman, husband, father, mentor, and friend. His smile, sense of humour and gentle guidance will be sorely missed by his loving wife Noreen; his sons, John of Victoria, BC, and Matt (Kathy) of Calgary; his daughters, Kathleen of Calgary and Norah of Ottawa, ON; and his adoring grandchildren, Jamie, Kelly, Ian, and Leah. Bob was predeceased by his brother Crawford in 2004.
